INTRODUCTION

A background of American history is quite essential to understand the economic conditions under which some of our pioneer ancestors lived. England and France both had colonies in North America. France controlled what is now Canada and all the land west of the Alleghany mountains that was drained by the Mississippi River and its tributaries, while England had only a narrow strip of land along the Atlantic seaboard stretching from Maine to Florida. From 1750 to 1800 these English colonies, especially the frontier of Penn. and Va. were subject to Indian raids.

The French methods of colonization were of Feudalistic form -- the Church and State owned and ruled most everything. Their idea was to explore the wilderness, convert the Indians to Christianity, and make money in the fur trade. They had no compact settlements in any place, but were scattered thin over the wilderness, chiefly in small settlements where forts were erected. Many of the trappers took Indian squaws for wives and raised a generation of half-breed savages.

The English colonizers were very democratic and stubborn in their ways. They settled down with their families in communities, reclaimed the wilderness, and farmed the soil. By mutual consent among themselves, they made democratic forms of government and enforced their laws. They had no use for Indians, and very seldom intermarried with them. As a solid unit, when their number increased, they pushed their way into the wilderness and drove out the Indians. Such methods made enemies of the Indian tribes and caused revenge by pillage and murder along the frontier settlements.

Greed for new territory along the frontier wilderness beyond the Alleghany mountains caused the war between England and France, known as the "French and Indian War" 1754-1763. This war culminated, when the English army under the command of Gen.Wolfe, defeated the French army under the command of Gen.Montcalm on the Plains of Abraham at Quebec,Canada in 1763. At the Treaty of Paris in 1764, France lost all of Canada and all of the territory east of the Mississippi River.

After the English gained control of the new territory, her methods of dealing with the Indians caused a rebellion among them. Pontiac, an Ottawa Indian chief, filled with ambition and encouraged by the greedy French Canadians, caused the Indians to go on the war-path before the English had a chance to take possession of the frontier forts that were surrendered by the French. They raided and over-ran most all the forts along the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley region. Numerous raiding parties pillaged and murdered many people along the frontier settlements of Pa. and Va.

In 1764,Gen.Bouquet, a Swiss army general who understood Indian warfare, suppressed the Delaware and Shawnee Indian tribes adjacent to Pa. and Va. frontier. After their suppression, Sir William Johnson, head commander of all English armies along the frontier, thru threats and just treatment, managed to make a temporary peace among the Indian tribes in the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes region. All the French forts were re-taken and garrisoned with English troops. Pontiac, the Indian leader, made peace with the English till a better opportunity arrived for another rebellion. In 1768, Pontiac was getting ready to stir up trouble in the Illinois territory, but was murdered by a renegade Indian, hired by an another Indian warfare got started. This murder of Pontiac, a great leader among the Indian tribes, almost caused the extinction of all the Illinois tribes by other Indians.

In 1774 the Indian raids along Penn. and Va. frontiers became bad again. Lord Dunmore, Gov.of Va. appointed Gen.Andrew Lewis to raise an army among the frontier counties of Va. and make war on the Indian tribes that were causing the trouble. The militia regiments all met at Fort Union(Lewisburg) in Greenbrier Co. From there they marched westward and at Point Pleasant at the mouth of the Kanawha river the Indian tribes were defeated in battle, Oct.11,1774. This put down the Indian menace for a time, but during and after the Revolutionary War for several years,some Indian tribes were almost continuously on the warpath. In 1794,Gen.Wayne's army thoroughly crushed the Indian rebellions.

Along the frontier settlements of Augusta Co.Va. there were several Indian raids. This refers to localities in what is now the counties of Bath, Alleghany, Rockbridge, Greenbrier, and Botetourte counties. There were several forts built along the frontier, namely - Ft.Young (Covington); Ft.Mann, a samll ,stockade fort ten miles north of Ft.Young; Ft. Dinwiddie about 30 miles up Jackson's River from Ft.Young; and a few miles further north Ft.Wilson(Bolar); in the Cowpaster Valley were two other forts,Ft.Lewis and Ft.Dickenson. In Greenbrier Co. was Ft.Union (Lewisburg), and about ten miles northwest of Lewisburg, Ft.Donnally. Up the Greenbrier River in Pocahontas Co. was Ft.Warwick (Cloverlick). During the French and Indian War this territory was garrisoned by Va. Militia troops, known as "The Dickenson Rangers", under the command of Gen.John Dickenson. For self-protection, every able bodied man served as a member in the Va. Militia along the frontier settlements.

Some Indian raids east of the Alleghany mountains in Augusta Co.Va. were:
1756 - raids at Ft.Dinwiddie and Ft.Dickinson territory - killed John Byrd (wife and children carried into captivity.), Humphrey Madison, Nicholas and Joseph Carpenter, James Montgomery, and David Galloway; others captured and taken into captivity were - Mrs.Geo.Kincaid and 3 children, Mrs.Persinger and two children, and two Brown boys.
1757 - Greenbrier settlements raided - George Clendenin and several others murdered; Ft.Dickinson raided again and numerous people killed and captured; on Kerr's Creek, Rockbridge Co. Robert Renix killed, wife and children carried off into captivity.
1759 - another raid on Kerr's Creek - 12 killed and 15 captured.
1761 - Raid on James River settlement - John Mathews and family murdered
1763- ambush fight near Ft.Mann, several killed and none captured.

INTRODUCTION

A brief sketch of European history at the time the English colonies of America were being colonized is quite essential to know, and the reason why so many emigrants came from Palatinate Germany and Northern Ireland, known as "Ulster".

The treaty of Wesphalia, Germany in 1648 which ended the 30 year religious war in Europe left northern Germany almost depopulated and desolate. Northern Germany and Sweden upheld the Protestant Christian form of religion against the Catholic Church under the command of Chas. V.,King of Spain, and the Holy Roman Empire. At the Peace of Wesphalia, the northern states of Germany became independent petty states ruled by Princes. The next 50 years the country became fairly well populated, but many were persecuted on account of their religious faith of Protestantism not in harmony with the established Lutheran Church. Agents of English business interests were sent to this country to drum up colonists to America in the English colonies. Religious persecution and better hopes of financial gains in the colonies caused thousands of these Germans to emigrate to America, and a large majority of them settled in Pennsylvania.

The Scotch-Irish of Northern Ireland were descendants of settlers who migrated from Scotland about 100 years before, in the reigns of Queen Elizabeth and James I of England. Around 1700 these Scotch-Irish became very prosperous in the linen industry and built up a prosperous exporting business. This hurt the English business men and ship owners so, by dubious means, stringent laws were passed by the English Parliament that killed all profitable business in the counties of Ulster, Ireland. These Scotch-Irish were of the Presbyterian faith, and Archbishop Ladd, head of the Episcopal Church of England, condemned their religion and tried to make the conform to the Established Church of England. The Colonizers of the English colonies in America had their agents to seek immigrants in Ulster. This was a very fertile field and many thousands came to the colonies, but the largest immigrations occurred between 1725 and 1750. Like the Germans, the Scotch-Irish found Penn. more lenient to their religious faith, so a large part of them went there. and settled chiefly in Lancaster Co. Penn.(like Augusta Co.Va. in colonial times, Lancaster Co.Pa. covered most of southeastern Pa. but chiefly the Susquehanna Valley.)

In Pa. the Germans began to migrate earlier and stttled up most of the country around Philadelphia and further west. The first generations of the Germans and Irish had different customs and habits, so each element kept to themselves. Providence and circumstances seem to have been created for most of these destitute immigrants, when the "Valley of Virginia" was opened up by Gov.Spottswood in 1720, which was divided into two large wilderness counties - Frederick Co. in the northern part and Augusta Co.in the southern part. When the large Scotch-Irish immigration began in 1750, most of Frederick Co.was already settled to a good extent by the Germans. The Beverly,Borden, and James River Agents sent salesmen to the Scotch-Irish Pa. to Ireland, and to Scotland for immigrants, and from 1750 to 1775 thousands of these settlers settled in what was Augusta Co.Va.(now Augusta, Rockbridge, Botetourt,Alloghany, and Bath Co.Va.)

INTRODUCTION

A brief history of the Mann and McClintic families, before they settled in Augusta Co.Va. is essential to our interest and from which class of people our forebears originated.

The family name of "Mann" is of German origin, but there were people by the name of Mann living in England and Ireland when the English colonies were being colonized in the sixteen and seventeen hundreds. According to historical records around 1100,a French Knight,"de Manny" settled in the county Kent,England with a landed estate and a title of nobility. According to the primogeniture law, only the oldest son acquired the title, while younger members of the family were commoners. Around 1400 some of this branch of the Manns moved to southern Ireland, and by 1700 some of this family became a family of landed gentry in County Tyrone in Ulster,Ireland. In Germany the name of Mann has always been quite a common family name. Numerous men bearing this name have become famous men in Germany.

In the English colonies during colonial times various Mann families can be found in old Court and historical records in several of the colonies, chiefly in Mass.,New York, Penn., and Va. Whether these families were of British, Irish, or German origin has long been lost in oblivion; so it is impossible to tell from whence the following family of Manns originated.

From old Augusta Co.Va. Court records, the founder was John Mann,who settled near Staunton,Va. in 1748. He died in 1756 but left four sons-- Moses,John,William, and Thomas. All were soldiers in the"French and Indian War." Moses Mann died in 1756, probably from war injuries. The other three sons were living at Ft.Young (Covington) in 1759, and were soldiers in the Dickenson Rangers. In 1764, John Mann was a soldier in the Va. Militia which took part in Gen.Bouquet's army along the frontier that crushed the Delaware and Shawnee Indian tribes who were ravaging the frontier settlements. Soon after his return to Ft.Young, he died. John Mann married a Danis Carpenter, and left several children -- some were Moses, Esau, and Jean, who in 1783 were in the Va. Militia in Capt. Bolar's Co. or Rangers. Thomas Mann, the youngest son of John Mann,Sr. took quite an active part in the Revolutionary War. He owned land on Potts Creek, and left his estate to his brother John's son, Moses, when he died in 1794. William, the ancestor of the following genealogy will be given a more detailed biographical sketch in the following paragraph.

William Mann was probably born around 1730-2, and died Mch. 20,1778. He served 1757-8 in Dickenson's Rangers; a sergeant at Ft.Young in 1759; and in 1762 had charge of small frontier fort, Ft.Mann, about ten miles north of Ft.Young, at the mouth of Falling Spring Creek, located on a tract of land he owned. Around 1760 he married Jane Hamilton, a daughter of William Hamilton who owned land near where he lived at Ft. Mann. In civil life William Mann was quite an active frontiersman. He was hired by Israel Christian, a merchant and financier of Staunton,Va. to be his Indian agent and hunter. Besides being a farmer, he was also a weaver of cloth, and taught the trade to various apprentices. In 1774 during the "Dunmore's War" he and Isaac Sharp became scouts for Gen. Andrew Lewis's army of Va. Militia that met at Ft.Union(Lewisburg) to put down the Indian rebellions along the frontier. While the army march[illegible] William Mann and Isaac Sharp were sent to Ft.Pi[illegible] to take a message to Gov.Dunmore, then bring back any message that would be forwarded. They did not reach Point Pleasant until the day after the battle was fought, Oct.10,1774. When William Mann died in 1774, he owned considerable land along Jackson's River and on Sinking Creek, Monroe Co. He left a widow, Jane, who died in Sept.1813, and 8 children Moses, Alice, Jane,Sarah,Thomas,William,John,and Archibald.

SOME McCLINTIC FAMILY HISTORY

The McClintock family first originated in Ayshire Co.Scotland of the Celt-Galic Highlander stock. "Mac Giolla Flintog" (Galic - means the fair haired) was changed to English spelling in the 16th century. Lindsay was the nearest similarity, but with the prefix Mac, it was spelled MacClintock. The first historical reference was made to the name when a Scotch bard sang the praise of a young Scotch archer by the name of McClintock who slew the Gregor chieftain "Black John Mac Gregor" in the clannish fight at the battle of Glenfurin in 1603, with an arrow shot from his bow. (See the intraductory chapter in Sir Walter Scott's novel "Rob Roy" for a history of this clannish fight.)

When northern Ireland "Ulster" was settled by Scotch immigrants, the Duke of Lennox (the Laird of Luss who owned a large tract of land on th southern shores of Loch Lomond,Ayshire,Scotland - located about 40 mile from the large city of Glasgow - Ludovic Stewart was his real name, and close relative of King James I of England) was given a large tract of 14,000 acres of land in County Donegal to settle up, near the town of Raphone on today's map. In 1650 this tract of land became the property of an Alexander McClintock, and his place of residence was called Rothdonnel Castle. Whether this Alexander McClintock was the youth who killed the Mac Gregor chieftain, while in the Laird of Luss' army, is unknown, but it is very probable. In "Toughboyne Churchyard" near the village of Trinta, there are several headstones bearing the names of various McClintocks from 1670 to 1772.

Numerous old wills found in Lancaster Co.Penn., records of different McClintock heads of families, often state that they were either born in Donegal or Tyrone County Ireland. It is impossible to trace the Augusta Co.Va. McClintic family from those old records, for most every will contains sons by the name of William, Alexander,James, and other common names. In Augusta Co.Va. there was a William McClintock with a large family of children who settled near Staunton,Va., but he died in 1785, and before 1800 all of his children moved away to unknown places.

William McClintock with an almost grown family of children moved in 1774 to Augusta Co.territory, now known as Bath Co. He was born 1717 in Ireland, and died in Dec.1801. His wife,Nancy Shanklin, was also born in Ireland in in 1724 and died in 1809. They were married somewhere in Lancaster Co.Pa. and lived there until they came to Augusta Co. Va. and settled on Jackson's River, near the mouth of Big Back Creek. He bought a tract of 175 acres in the Dickenson Land Grant for 175 pounds His children were Joseph,William,Robert,Alexander,Margaret,Jane, and Nancy.

Joseph McClintic (the spelling of the family name of McClintock was changed to the new form of spelling "McClintic" about 1800 by this branch of McClintics, while other Penn. branches kept the old form of spelling) moved over to Greenbrier Co. between 1775 and 17[illegible] and took Spring) is located. In later years his farm was known as "The Albert Hanna Land". The old log cabin he lived in with his family stood the ravages of time till about 1870, when it was torn down. In Greenbrier he married a Mrs.McClure, and by her raised five children - William married in 1801 an Agnes Hannah; Margaret married her cousin William McClintic, son of Robert; Mary "Polly" who died in 1843, married in 181 Robert Handley (1792-1845). In 1839 they moved to Lafayette Co.Mo. and took up a homestead near Aullsville and had a family of three children-William, Joseph, and John. Many of their descendants now live in Lafayette and Vernon Co.Mo. and in Los Angeles Co.Cal.; Margaret McClintic married 1788, William Morris who died in 1824 and left a family of 9 children - Jean,William,Richard,Nancy,John(Ned), Margaret,Ann,Elizabeth, and Benjamin Morris. Around 1825, the widow and children moved to Jackson Co.Ohio, along with other members of the Morris family.Around 1860 a son, Rev.Richard Morris, an Episcopal minister, visited some of the Pocahontas and Bath Co.kin. Nothing more is known about the Morris family; Jane and Nancy McClintic married Thomas and Patrick Milhollen, brothers. Jane Milhollen died before 1801, according to her father's will, and left children. The only record left in Court records, is that her daughter Sarah married Jeremiah Simms in 1800. In 1805 Thomas Milhollen and all his family moved to Kentucky. Nothing is known about Nancy and Patrick Milhollen.

The other three sons - William, Robert, and Alexander McClintic, married the Mann sisters - Alice,Jane,and Sarah. A biographical sketch will be given in the following records about each, and their descendants

This brief introduction has been written to portray a word picture in which our pioneer ancestors lived. Very few of the older generation now live who knew the old timers who lived when the good old U.S.A. was in its youth. For the past 20 years I have been collecting various family data found in the following records. Various descendants at different times have collected some family Bible records, most of which I have been able to acquire. By correspondence with members of numerous branches, I have gathered much more additional data on later generations. In acknowledgement to those who have furnished some data to this record I have made a special list of their names, their serial number, and page where found in the record, and also their last known address.

In memory of my mother,Lucy McClintic Arbuckle (p.12 & 69) have I made this record. She is gone now, but she will always be with us, her children, in our memories. She lived to be almost 87 years old, but she will never be forgotten by those who knew and loved her. Friendship, love, and truth (divine attributes) were her ideals of life. She never had much wealth, but made the most of what she had. She raised a family of 8 children. When they were grown up and left home, some one of them was never far away in the time of need. Love must give in order to receive, and she was the living model of it.

This record was put together by Junius Hunter Arbuckle p.59/11351.8 in the summer and fall of 1950 at Clovis,Fresno Co.Cal.

PRELUDE TO THIS GENEALOGICAL RECORD

The following genealogical record of the descendants of William Mann and most of those of William McClintic has been made with the utmost care. Some errors are bound to occur, for different copies of some data does not always tally with each other, so I have selected the dates that seem most appropriate to accuracy. I have also received some Bible records that were copied off by a typewriter, and were not proof read as to accuracy. Whenever possible, I corrected such errors, where found, to harmonize with other dates.

This record as I have made it may be somewhat confusing to those who do not understand it. I have used to designate each descendant of William Mann, the Founder, according to the generation he or she belongs. Each number designates the number of birth of each child in order of birth; each person,regardless of generation, has a period separating his number of birth in his father's family. The number of figures to his number, specifies the generation in which he or she belongs. The red numbers, separated by a dash from his or her number of birth, designates the page where his or her offspring is found. Whenever possible, I have written a short biographical sketch of the heads of families, and sometimes to unmarried persons who have been prominent men of their day. Whenever possible, I gave their last known address, and their vocation. In the center of the page, just above the name, I have given his or her parent's name with the number preceeding and followed on what page it is to be found. In some of the later generations, whenever possible, I have kept the children's families in conjunction or one right after the other. There will be instances where data has been acquired recently, and the new data has been put in additional pages in the back of the record, but the preceeding ancestor is always listed so it is easy to locate where the data belongs.

This record I began typing off last summer, and since then I have received new data to fill in many blank spaces. Where too much new data did not have space enough for recording, I remade whole pages and if necessary added a supplement page marking it as page"B" - for instance see page 55 and 55B.

Over a period of 20 years or more, I have been gathering this data. Many of those listed as donators to the record are gone now but the record they donated will never be lost. There are many blank spaces of dates that can be filled in. Numerous ones have I filled in from new data acquired recently, and from oversight from data found in old letters Bible records. Obituaries, newspaper clippings,historical records,etc.

This record, I hope, will be of much interest to those who happen to read it.There are numerous families which have very little data, except the head of a family and their children; yet in most families there is a fairly complete record, even down into the living and oncoming generation.This record may be used by those who desire to join some patriotic society, like the D.A.R., Sons of the Rev.,and Colonial Dames. No references are made in this record to such orders, but there are many references that can be found in historical books in the locality where these ancestors lived.

Office of Arms, Dublin, Ireland
July 30, 1908

Dear Sir,

The following Arms were confirmed in 1815 to the descendants of Alexander McClintock of Trintaugh, County Donegal.

Per pale gules and azure, a chevron ermine between three escallops, that in the dexter chief or, in the sinister argent, in base per pale of the fourth and last. Crest a lion (rampant) passant argent. MOTTO : "Virtue et Labore".

The Arms of Lord Rothdonnel are slightly different as the three escallops are argent and the crest a Lion Passant proper. This change was made when Lord Rathdonnel's father assumed the additional name and Arms of Sunbury by Royal (consent) License in 1816. I am

Yours faithfully,
G.D.Burtchoal Athelone.

As to the Arms, they are not recorded at Edinburgh, Scotland, but are carved on a stone which is said traditionally to have been brought from Scotland and built into the house at Trinta. When that place was sold to Drumcare it was left in the house, but about 20 years ago, Lord Rath donnel Lismavagh removed it to where it now stands.

The history of Arms in Ireland is given in the attached copy of a letter from the Ulster Office in Dublin. "According to a writer in the OBIN TIMES, says there is no distinctive Tartan. A Scotch firm years ago used to sell an alledged Tartan, and probably does so still, but after some correspondence with them, I could give no authority for it, and I have no doubt it was a modern invention made to sell.

Signed, Major H.F.McClintock, Oct.9, 1924.

Ref. Excerpts from data made by Prof.Emory McClintock of Carlisle U. in Penn.

By Ruby Haskins Ellis --

Arms: Party per Pales gules and azure, a chevron ermine between three escallops argent. (This means that the face of the shield is divided into two parts and that the right side is red(gules) and the left side is blue(azure). The chevron of ermine is a V shaped band across the shield separating three escallops of silver (argent). The V in this cas is upside down.)

Crest: A lion passant proper (meaning - a lion is said to be passant when walking on all fours. It is proper because represented in natural color.)

Escallops are usually a sign of crusading ancestry. Pilgrims to the Holy Land in the Middle Ages took up the escallop as their badge.

Ref. This is taken from a clipping printed in a Richmond, Va. newspaper and sent by Mrs. Frances McClintic Alvey in Dec.1939 to Miss Alice Arbuckle of Glenville, W.Va. Later Mrs.Don Harper of Elkins, W.Va. made a copy of the complete article, and through her I received a copy around 1945. J.H.A.

William McClintic
1758-1786

Eckenrode Supplement (p.103) "The Va. Soldiers in the Rev.War". William McClintock served in the 8th and 12th Va.Regts. in the Continental Line.

John Gwathmy's "Historical Register Of Va's Rev.Soldiers.(Gwathmy) Pg.517 - William McClintic served in the 4th,8th, and 12th Va.Regts. in the Continental Line. (NOTE: There were 15 regiments of the Va. Continental Line that fought in the Rev.War on the eastern seaboard.)

From D.A.R.record of Mrs.Elizabeth Byrd Smith of Quincy,Ill. Her D.A.R. number is 76550.
William McClintock drafted for one year's service -- private in Capt. William Wallace's Co., Col.James Woods 8th Va. Regt. Discharged 1779.

From family records.
William McClintock was seriously wounded at the battle of Guilford Court House, N.Carolina, in 1781. (In this battle Wm.McC. must have been serving in the 12th Va.Regt. but I have no means to find out who was in command, but there must be U.S.War records that give reference to 15 regiments of the Continental Lines of Va. soldiers in the Rev.

From Morton's Bath Co.Va. pg.196
William McClintic was desperately wounded at the Guilford (C.H.?N.C.) that only partially recovered. In 1786 the Court of Botetourt (Co.Va.) recommended him a pension. He died soon afterward, leaving a son.

Hand me down history of the McClintic family.
"The widow of William McClintic (Alice Mann McClintic) bought the old Robert McClintic homestead on Jackson's River with money she received from her husband's war service, in the Rev.war, and with some other money received from her father-in-law, William McClintic,I."(When she received this war bounty I do not know, but it was before 1800. In 1808 she married again, William Hunter Cavendish of Greenbrier, but he died in 1818. After this she was always known as "Grandma Cavendish" and her farm was always called "The old Cavendish Place", even after it passed out of the hands of the family long after she died in 1858.

Wm.T.Mann inherited considerable land from his father's estate, but a lot of the land was under litigation without a clear title. With the aid of his step-father they managed to get the titles clear. With such training in after years, Wm.T. bought up much coal lands in Fayette and Monroe counties for little or nothing. He had the foresight to see that these coal lands would be valuable when the railroads were built up the Kanawha and New Rivers. In his lifetime he did not get much return for his investments in coal lands, but his sons were able to continue where he left off, and some of them died very wealthy men.

According to her father, Moses H.Mann, he left her and her brother, Charles, children by his first wife, $1,000 each, or gave it to them from assets he got from their mother's estate, long before he died in 1864. At Ben (Falling Springs) there was the old Kyle home built of brick which is said to contain considerable material taken from old Fort Mann of Colonial history days.
Kyle, after his wife's death, married again, Julia Dagg, sister of Mary Dagg (pg.5/12.2) and by her had a son, Tom Kyle, who married and raised a family of 8 children. Tom died a few years ago. His son, Galbraith Kyle, is quite a prominent man in Alleghany Co. Va. now, (1950).

When they were first married they lived on land near Williamsville that his wife inherited from her father, Andrew H.Byrd. When Wm's dad died in 1861, he went to live on his father's home place, which belonged to his sister Elizabeth, who was an invalid. He was to take care of her during her lifetime and then would inherit the place As luck would have it, he died before his sister did, but his children fell heir to the farm. It was sold and the money divided among the heirs in 1890. He was a land surveyor and helped mark the county line of Highland and Bath, also Bath and Alleghany.

On Bolar's Run, near Jackson's River in Bath Co.Va. was the land Moses McClintic inherited from his mother's estate. In 1870 this land was sold by Wm.and Arch. sons of Moses to McLaughlin, and today it is known as the "Old McLaughlin Place". All of Moses' ch. left Bath Co. when grown to live. Bill Hunt moved over into Poca. Co. and married Mary Mathews, dau. of Sampson Lockhart Mathews, the county surveyor of Poca.Co. For a wedding gift he gave his dau. a tract of land near Marlington. Through it today a small creek runs, called McClintic Creek. This old home is now owned by a grandson, John Hunter McClintic of Charleston,W.Va. who makes it his summer home. All his sons are graduates of Roanoke College,Va.

This family lived at Lewisburg,W.Va. where all the children were born. Andrew Hawver Crist is buried at Hinton,W.Va. His wife and children moved to Kentucky settling in Pendleton Co. and the mother and several children are buried at Williamstown, Grant Co.Ky.
A good part of the data on Elizabeth Crist's descendants and some of the data on Rev.Robert McClintic's children was gathered in 1931 by Mr.M.Lacy Johnston of Baltimore,Md. (a cousin of Andrew H.Crist) and Dr.M.Z.Crist(see No.13916.5) of Atlanta,Ga. A good part of the data was told by Mrs.Elizabeth Crist from memory to her son several years before her death in 1907. This data was given to his niece, Mrs. Edith Hogsette Wood. Along about 1940 Mrs.Wood sent to me her data. A few dates have been added to this data taken from various family records and other sources.

Moses McClintic for many years took quite an interest in collectin family history data. He spent considerable time and money in collecting data on different branches of the McClintic family. Much of what data is found in the William T.Mann genealogy was furnished by Moses McClintic. I have quite a lot of old letters he wrote to others in Mo. and other places many years ago, and some other data, but Moses was not very systematic in the arrangement of his data, and much of it was very incomplete.

When a young man he learned the mercantile business in the store of John A.Arbuckle, a merchant at Frankford, before the Civil War. (As told by my Dad,Jame S.Arbuckle). From his uncle Robert McClintic, he inherited a tract of land in Kadar's Valley near Ft.Donnally in 1855. During the latter part of the Civil War Wm.Shields moved to Frankford and became a merchant. When his son William was old enough he became a partner. This store continued in business until Wm.Jr. died in 1931.
The first wife of Wm.Shields was a daughter of Thomas A.Bell (1807-1890) and Mary C. Dickenson (1811-1870). He was a brother-in-law of Chas.W.Gillilan, Jonathan Mays, and Renick Kincaid. His second wife, no doubt, was a cousin or aunt of Jonathan Mays.

From his uncle Robert McClintic (see pg.2 #14.2) in 1855 he received land that was willed to him by his brother William who died in 1819. This land was located in Montgomery and Warren Co. Mo. (see WILL of Robert McClintic). Robert came to Concord Hill in Warren Co.Mo. in 1858. He worked for James P.Thurmond, a merchant, in 1863 and married his daughter Lucy Thurmond. After marriage, he took up farming, but soon afterwards got into politics. He served 1867-8 as Sheriff of Calloway Co.;1880-3 Manager of Fulton Woolen Mills; and in 1896 became Treasurer of the Fulton Hosp. for the Insane. As a side line, he was a silent partner with W.H.Humphreys in a furniture business in Fulton, Mo. In 1897 he had a paralytic stroke and at the home of his daughter Mrs.Inez Moore of St.Louis, Mo. passed away in Jan. 1898. (From obit.)

After Nellie died her sister Laura stayed with Brinjley and took care of him till he died, for he was an invalid for several years. Brinkley was a pretty slick piece of humanity; he borrowed considerable money from his sister-in-law,Laura, with the understanding that she would inherit the farm on which he lived, When he died in 1944 he willed his property to a friend , a Miss Kincaid, and left Laura practically destitute. There were no written receipts for money he borrowed from her, so she could collect nothing.

Margaret met her future husband during the Civil War. After the war was over he came back to Greenbrier and claimed his bride, then went back to Alabama where his people lived.(Mother).After they went to Ala. in a few years they had five small children, 3 boys and 2 girls, when both died near the same time. The three boys were sent to their Uncle Robert Shields who raised them, and the girls, Maggie and Nellie, the baby, were sent to their Aunt Minnie Johnson Livesay in Greenbrier. When the boys were grown, they returned to Ala. and received a lagacy that was left them by their parents. Nellie, the baby, died within a year of age, and Maggie stayed with her Aunt Minnie till she was grown, then returned to Ala. to live with her brothers. Since then nothing has been heard about any of this family (as told by Miss Laura Johnson in a letter in 1946 to Miss Rachel McClintic of Frankford,W.Va. see pg.36).

About two years before she died she became an invalid aith a cancer, and was taken to her sister Betty Arbuckle's home at Glenville,W.Va. to be taken care of. DR.Clyde McDonald made numerous trips to visit his aunt to see if he could help her with his skill and also the help of other specialists. All such treatment could not cure her and so she gradually wasted away. The McDonald boys, Dr.Clyde and Rex. became her heirs.

When Charlie was a young man, he went back to W.Va. to study medicine under his Uncle Frank McClintic. After studying medicine about two years, he married a sister of his Uncle's wife, and had to go to work to make a living and quit his schooling. After Rosa died in 1899, he came back to Mo. lived about a year, married again, and came out to Clovis,Cal. where he bought a small farm. In time he owned 60 acres and had quite a herd of dairy cattle at the time of his death.
